First Step Toward a Home For Cairo Temple.

Rutland, Junt 4 .- The first step towards the erection of the first shriners home in Vermont, which Cairo Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., iste build in this city, was begun yesterday with the tearing down of a house which stood on a part of the site. Six sets of plans for the shrine temple have been considered but the details of the one accepted have not yet been made public nor has the name of the successful architect.

The temple will be built of brick and cement and will be two stories high, the dimensions being 100 by 65 feet. The first floor will be occupied by a kitchen and dining room which will have a ceiling 11 feet high and the entire upper floor will be taken up by a Frederic Edwards Resigns School Posthall having a stage and balcony, the celling being 24 feet high.
